Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-11, 13, 15-25, and 27-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sack et al (4,309,486). Sack et al disclose an electrostatic recording material made with a lacquer to form a dielectric layer. See column 3, line 10, to column 4, line 6 and Examples 2, 3 and 4. Compositions comprising mixtures of acrylated oligomers, a monomer such as isobornyl acrylate, micronized polypropylene wax and a photoinitiator are taught. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to provide compositions comprising components taught by Sack et al wherein two acrylated oligomers have different viscosities. Although Sack et al do not mention requiring two different viscosities, the examples comprise different oligomers that would be expected to have different viscosities, thus meeting the instant claim requirements.

Double Patenting

Claims 1-30 of this application conflict with claims 1-30 of Application No. 10/703,938. 37 CFR 1.78(b) provides that when two or more applications filed by the same applicant contain conflicting claims, elimination of such claims from all but one application may be required in the absence of good and sufficient reason for their retention during pendency in more than one application. Applicant is required to either cancel the conflicting claims from all but one application or maintain a clear line of demarcation between the applications. See MPEP § 822. With respect to claims 8 and 21, several of the R₂ groups set forth in the claims of SN '938 are also recited in the claims of the instant application, therefor the claims conflict wherein the R₂ groups are the same.

Art Unit: 1711

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 1-30 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-30 of Application No. 10/703,938. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Lueers et al (6,770,128) disclose a matting agent comprising silica and wax for radiation curable coating compositions. Szum et al (6,534,557) disclose compositions comprising acrylated oligomers and monomers. Shustack (5,128,387) discloses compositions comprising acrylated oligomers and monomers.
